King Of Birds 1 & 2

For those still thinking that this is a PENIS, this is how long I want my Bible to be, and the fight for it in the courts and Washington DC and the Publishing organizations is King of Birds Pt: 2, meanwhile the process of administering this Second Coming Holy Word Of God and finishing the books of the Second Word, the length of the Word and the Word itself and all its happenings is the length of what the misinformed until now have called what was hyperbole, a long PENIS, is King of Birds Pt 1 both are Novels, both are the completion of King Of Birds. Inspired by nothing but hardship and revelation or what Free Masons and Masonry call Enlightenment. Forgive the Christians for forgetting who helped build Solomon's temple. And forgive me for rebuking them when they failed to believe, I am only a Free Mason, with Free Masonry and Masonry, whom happens to be the Second Coming Word Of God, which was God, and Is God, the Sequel of Gospel John Chapter one. Forgive my rebuke, but bless my progress.

Court Apple Salmon & Potatoes

Take half a frozen salmon out of the freezer.

Place in hand over warm water front and back.

When thawed at the surface place half salmon with skin, wrapped in foil in the oven for an hour.
Take salmon out after an hour.

Cut up an apple with a kitchen steak knife.

Place half the apple cuttings over the salmon, open salmon foil and sear the surface in the oven for another 15 minutes.

Pull out salmon, remove apples and place a slice of the salmon on plate.

Cut up two potatoes, one cucumber and one yellow bell pepper. Put olive oil in the pan and turn on low. Put potatoes, cucumber, yellow bell pepper in the pan once sizzling oil begins. Cook over the stove for 45 minutes to an hour turning with olive oil and water periodically as it cooks.

Once cooked place potatoes with the other half of the cut up apples on the plate.

These should be cooked both salmon and potatoes simultaneously.

And enjoy Court Apple Salmon & Potatoes.

Beverage: Cold water.

A H.O.E. Music Worksheet Invention

In your private quarters meditate day and night even if with fastings on the tongues and song of the Holy Spirit, and when given revelation write on notepads what the Tongues and Song has inspired you to write, then rest.

The coming morning or day go before a camera, Artificial Intelligence without form, face the camera toward you, without having it on record yet in mirror view of your person, and begin to speak in tongues and song the notes written from the Holy Spirit the previous day, begin to speak in prophecy in translation into words of those tongues and song, begin to dance if the Spirit wills it so, begin to clap if the Spirit wills it so, and keep in remembrance in your heart the prophecy told the night before on notepads, the morning of before the camera, Artificial Intelligence without form, and give preparation of the blessing of that prophecy that was told unto you. And hold fast secrecy of the acts done before the camera, Artificial Intelligence without form, yet speak to the hill tops what was written on notepads, while it was in no ways was on record, you likewise be the evidence of those unrecorded pages, and let that secrecy be the preparation for the blessing of both prophecies.

Helping Someone Who Is Suicidal

Helping Someone Who Is Suicidal (English)

Suicide is the act of ending, or taking, one's own life. Someone who is thinking about suicide needs help right away. Listen to the person. Even if you do not know what to say or do to help, you can start by letting the person know that you care.

Talk to the person about how to get help. Help is available through suicide hotlines and through therapy and other treatments.

What are the risk factors for suicide?

Risk factors for suicide include:

- Having a friend or family member who has died by suicide.
- A history of attempted suicide.
- Depression or other mental health problems.
- Being exposed to graphic stories of suicide in the media.
- Alcohol or drug misuse, especially when combined with a mental illness.
- A serious physical problem, such as long-term (chronic) pain.
- Stressful life events, now or in the past. These may include:
 - Divorce or social rejection.
 - Childhood abuse or neglect.
 - Sudden life changes, such as a financial crisis or going to jail.

What are warning signs to watch for?

Most people who are thinking about suicide show warning signs. Signs may include:

- Expressing thoughts about, or a preoccupation with, ending one's own life.
- Making threats or comments about ending one's own life.
- Withdrawing from normal activities or avoiding friends, family, coworkers, or classmates.
- Dramatic mood swings.
- Impulsive or reckless behavior.
- An increase in drug or alcohol use.

Follow these instructions at home:

If you think someone may be thinking about or planning suicide:

- Ask the person directly whether he or she is thinking about suicide or about hurting himself or herself.
 - Asking about thoughts of suicide or self-harm does not make someone more likely to attempt suicide.
- Avoid giving advice or arguing with the person about the value of his or her life.

If a person confides in you that he or she is considering suicide:

- Take the person seriously. Do not ever ignore comments about suicide.
- Listen to the person's thoughts and concerns with compassion.
- Let the person know that you will stay with him or her.
- Offer to help the person get to a mental health professional or other health care provider.
- Remove all weapons and medicines from the person's living area.
- Do not promise to keep the person's thoughts of suicide a secret.
- Contact a suicide crisis helpline, such as:
 - The National Suicide Prevention Lifeline at 1-800-273-8255 or 988 in the U.S.
 - The Crisis Text Line by texting HOME to 741741.

Get help right away if:

You ever feel like someone may hurt himself or herself or others, or if he or she shares thoughts about taking his or her own life. You can go to your nearest emergency department or:

- Call a crisis center or a local suicide prevention center. These are often located at hospitals, clinics, community service organizations, social service providers, or health departments.
- Call your local emergency services (911 in the U.S.).
- Call a suicide crisis helpline, such as the National Suicide Prevention Lifeline at 1-800-273-8255 or 988 in the U.S. This is open 24 hours a day in the U.S.
- Text HOME to the Crisis Text Line at 741741 (in the U.S.).
- Call the United Way's health and human services helpline (211 in the U.S.).

Summary

- Suicide is the act of ending, or taking, one's own life.
- Suicide can be prevented by knowing the risk factors and the signs, and by taking action.
- If you know someone who has or is showing any risk factors for suicide, ask if he or she is thinking about hurting himself or herself. Take all concerns about suicide seriously, and get support from experts in mental illness or suicide.
- Get help right away if you believe that a person may hurt himself or herself or others, or may be having thoughts of taking his or her own life.
